Introduction

The Complaints and Appeals Policy and Procedure addresses any form of complaint or appeal that may arise at any level of the Association in relation to customer service, training (including assessment), human resources, conflict resolution or any other matter. It covers Association group, regional, branch and national levels.

In general, non-formal attempts shall be made to resolve initial disputes or concerns. This may include advice, discussions, and general mediation in relation to the complainant's concerns. Any volunteer or employee can be involved in this informal process to resolve issues. Once a formal complaint or appeal has been made this policy and procedure must be followed.

Objectives

- To strive for employee, contractor, volunteer, enrolled student, client satisfaction and to address complaints or appeals made to ABA with professionalism and courtesy and aim to resolve issues
- To assist employees, contractors, volunteers, and enrolled students raise and resolve workplace or training and assessment grievances in a fair and equitable manner

- To process and finalise all complaints and appeals in a timely manner - no later than 60 calendar days
- To address all matters in an impartial, fair, open and transparent manner in accordance with the principles of natural justice and equity
- To work within Federal, State and Territory laws
- To comply with our responsibilities as a Registered Training Organisation

Principles

General

- ABA will adopt a balanced and just view of any issue and consider all the available facts in a timely
- All parties are fully informed of their rights and responsibilities throughout the complaints and appeals process, and adequate, fair and equal representation for all ABA parties will be ensured
- The Association shall make the Complaints and Appeals Policy and Procedure and forms available on the ABA website and in other relevant internal documents
- Processes will involve only those individuals essential to addressing the complaint or appeal
- ABA respects, and is willing to work with existing state, industry and government authorities that provide mediation
- Records of investigations and outcomes of complaints and appeals are treated with the highest level of privacy and confidentiality

Review of Outcomes

- ABA treats complaints as an opportunity for improvement
- ABA will periodically review the outcomes of complaints and appeals and modify procedures or practices to eliminate, reduce or mitigate the likelihood of reoccurrence

Workplace Dispute Principles

- ABA is committed to providing a safe, harmonious and productive work environment including that for volunteers, where grievances are dealt with sensitively and promptly
- Grievances and disputes where possible should be addressed directly with those concerned in the first instance. If it remains unresolved then the relevant first line manager should be consulted. If informal discussion is unable to resolve the concerns, then it will be investigated as per the Complaints and Appeals Policy and Procedures until a resolution is reached

Training and Assessment Principles

- ABA recognises that learners have the right to appeal against academic or administrative decisions taken by ABA
- Any appeal regarding an assessment will be treated seriously, investigated thoroughly and dealt with according to its merits

Training external appeals

ABA recognises that learners have the right to appeal against academic or administrative decisions. For complaints and appeals relating to training and assessment services:

- The complainant or appellant may request mediation or review by an independent third-party
- The mediator or reviewer will be a person appointed by ABA and cannot be a party to the dispute
- Use of external services will be at the complainant's/appellant's cost, unless authorised by the CEO

Administration

- Formal complaints and appeals shall be made using the Complaints and Appeals Form or Training Complaints and Appeals Form on the ABA website
- Complaints are to include the following information:
 - Submission date of complaint
 - Name of complainant
 - Contact details of complainant or person submitting complaint on their behalf
 - Nature and details of complaint
 - Date of the event which led to the complaint if relevant
 - Attachments (if applicable)
 - Outcomes sought
- An acknowledgement is automatically sent to the submitter of the form, the complainant and to ABA National Office
- Under certain circumstances, complaints and appeals can also be made via email, phone call or in person. Complaints and appeals must be recorded by the person who received a complaint or appeal. The same procedures must be followed under these circumstances.
- As soon as a complaint or appeal is received, National Office staff determine the person responsible for the resolution process using the table below. In instances where the person of first level responsibility is involved in the dispute then next level person will take responsibility.
- National Office staff must document action taken against lodgement received according to current National Office guidelines
- A written complaint or appeal will be acknowledged, formally reviewed and finalised as soon as practicable but not later than sixty (60) calendar days of receipt and a written response will be sent to the complainant within the timeframe with:
 - Actions taken to date
 - Result if complaint resolved
 - Any further action to be taken
 - Options if the complainant is not satisfied with the outcome.
- ABA will inform complainants/appellants in writing, including reasons, when a complaint or appeal will take longer than 60 calendar days to finalise. Under this circumstance, ABA will regular update the complainant or appellant on the progress of the matter
- Resolved outcomes shall be given to all relevant parties in writing, these may include reply to complaint, apology, and corrective action, i.e. changes to policy, compromise and etc., to eliminate or mitigate the likelihood of reoccurrence. The Complaints and Appeals Resolution Form on the ABA website should be used and forward to relevant people within two weeks of resolution.
- If a party to a complaint is dissatisfied with the outcome, an appeal may be lodged in writing with the Appeals Committee within 21 days.
- Adequate records, include but not limited to the complaints or appeals and corrective action on outcomes, must be kept at all stages of the process and securely stored to ensure confidentiality
- For complaints and appeals relating to training, all communications and documentation must be forwarded to Training Administration. Training Administration will securely store documentation of complaints and appeals for 5 years.

- Final outcome should be reported as resolved to person/staff receiving initial complaint or appeal if the process has moved beyond them and if relevant National Office or Training Administration staff should sign off issue as resolved
